

the enviance system

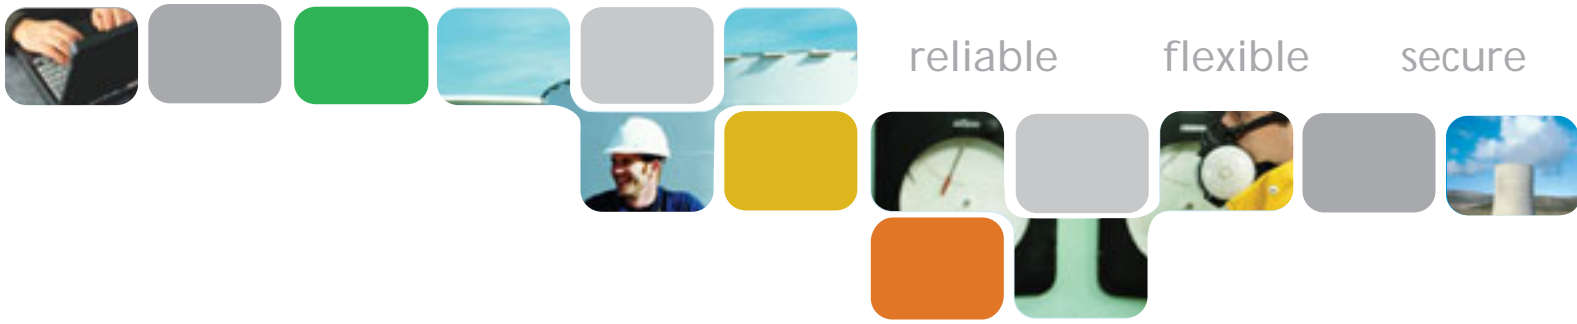

Enviance provides leading on-demand compliance management solutions for organizations looking to better ensure compliance, mitigate risk, increase efficiency and establish institutional knowledge. Organizations choose Enviance for its unrivaled power, flexibility, and bottom-line benefits. And, because the Enviance System is faster to implement, you see the benefits and gain value faster than any other solution.

Redefining Compliance Management

In a complex regulatory environment, assuring compliance with all your environmental, health and safety obligations, such as NPDES, RCRA, TRI, and OSHA, is a challenge. And with the regulatory demands of Title V, MACT, and new source performance standards, those challenges are on the rise.

As the volume of data required for compliance documentation grows, so do the risks of non-compliance for organizations large and small. Many depend on piecemeal solutions to manage their diverse compliance activities – risking information gaps and delays, and facing time-consuming administrative activities. Others invest in custom systems which have time, cost, and capability uncertainties during development and require extensive, costly support. But none of these solutions give organizations all the tools they need in one powerful, flexible application – until Enviance.

Completely Internet-based, the Enviance System is the most comprehensive of its kind. It will give you new confidence in your compliance assurance efforts, dramatically reduce the time, costs, and risks associated with them, and establish consistent institutional knowledge to protect your business and eliminate guesswork down the road. Best of all, Enviance delivers these benefits faster and more efficiently than any other solution available.

Enviance created the industry's first Internet-based compliance solution. And is today the most trusted and innovative provider of environmental, health and safety compliance management solutions on the market. Quickly and easily configurable, the Enviance System allows you to purchase, on a subscription basis, exactly what you need. As your needs grow and change, the Enviance System seamlessly adjusts to meet your new requirements. Like your local electric company, Enviance is "always on" and ready to supply service, on demand, to meet your compliance needs.

ALL THE TOOLS YOU NEED FOR AIRTIGHT COMPLIANCE

Missed deadlines, unchecked deviations, lack of corrective action, and reporting errors and omissions cost your organization time and money. The Enviance System gives you all the fully integrated tools you need to completely close the loop on your compliance activities.

End-to-end accountability. With the Enviance System, all your data are available in one place, and every task is tracked to completion. Create and assign tasks, set schedules, monitor progress, establish notification and escalation protocols, and collect specific information such as time and cost required to complete tasks. The System also generates automatic reminders and emails based on your requirements – so you can quickly respond to potential incidents.

Take control of documentation. Easily store, organize, share, and track multiple versions of compliance documents. Whether it's a spreadsheet or PDF, safety document or operating procedure, it is easily managed.

Simplify reporting. The System's exclusive Report Writer technology automatically builds, edits, and generates local Title V compliance and deviation reports, NPDES Discharge Monitoring Reports, RCRA generator reports, and more – in just a few keystrokes, directly onto the government form – which can then be submitted online to enabled regulatory agencies. Ad hoc reports for one facility or your entire organization are also generated with ease.

COMPLETE FUNCTIONALITY IN ONE SEAMLESS APPLICATION

No other compliance solution puts such a comprehensive toolset into one easy-to-use system. With Enviance, you can consolidate, manage, and review data and information across all organizations and activities – for health, safety, air, water, and waste.

While most solutions are limited to task management, the Enviance System tracks numeric emissions data, as well as tasks, so all your information is at your fingertips. It enables you to reference and manage detailed numeric data, giving you complete calculation, analysis, reporting, and tracking capabilities.

And, to seamlessly move data between systems you can easily integrate the Enviance System with your existing technology solutions including Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP), monitoring (e.g. CEMS, COMS), process control and asset management systems, and business intelligence and analytics software.

FLEXIBLY ADAPTS TO YOUR BUSINESS

The Enviance System is designed to map to your needs, business processes, and monitoring technologies. The System is quickly configured, without writing programming code, to mirror your workflow processes, assuring you of the right balance of efficient automation and human discretion. You decide which events require follow up, and the System issues, escalates, and tracks to completion all required tasks. Detailed explanations of human interventions are documented, for fast reference and ease of reporting down the road.

You also have flexibility when it comes to implementation. We provide services, support, and training, or work with the consultant or integrator of your choice to accelerate the configuration and deployment processes.

ELIMINATES TECHNOLOGY HASSLES AND COSTS

The Enviance System is available on a subscription basis and accessed anytime, anywhere, on demand. Because Enviance is Internet-based, you are free from the headaches of hardware and software installation and maintenance, security and availability concerns, and time-consuming system upgrades. We manage the entire system, so your staff stays focused on your business.

Conserve your dollars and resources. With no software to download or hardware to procure or deploy, the Enviance System is fast to implement and practically maintenance-free. And, because the System is so intuitive and flexible, you can add new facilities or change processes on your own.

Avoid maintenance expense. Because the Enviance System is Internet-based, upgrades are automatically integrated at no cost to you. And, system maintenance costs, which may otherwise run up to four times the annual license fees, are eliminated.

Eliminate reliability concerns. Our state-of-the-art data center assures you a level of security and reliability few organizations can afford to maintain in-house. Our security architecture and highly redundant technology infrastructure give you absolute confidence that your data is protected and always available.

Access information anytime, anywhere. All tools and information related to your compliance programs are at your fingertips, from anywhere you have Internet access – even remotely via PDA.

Simplify. Fully user-configurable and designed for simplicity, the System features a familiar Windows-like interface that makes navigation intuitive.

A UNIQUE, DYNAMIC PLATFORM KEEPS YOU ON THE CUTTING EDGE

Our software as a service delivery model and flexible development platform enable you to continually and automatically have access to better and more powerful ways to manage your compliance efforts. That's why only Enviance offers innovations such as:

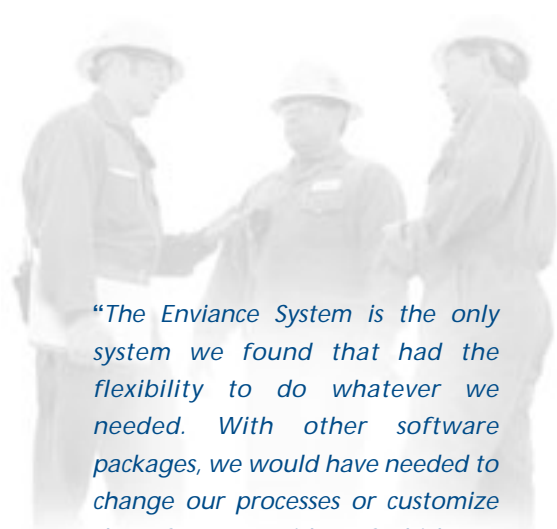

Complex calculation capabilities. The Enviance System compares input and calculated parameters to your limits, then triggers events and tasks that automate your workflow. You will easily manage potential incidents even for complex, multi-parameter tasks.

Automated workflow management. Only the Enviance System allows you to automate workflow based on data inputs. When an incident or deviation occurs, the System automatically captures required data, and issues, escalates, and tracks to completion all required tasks - providing you with unprecedented reliability, efficiency, and accuracy.

Integrated tracking and reporting for waste. Only the Enviance System offers fully embedded management, auditing, and incident response for hazardous, solid, and PCB waste.

Closed-loop audit, incident, inspection tracking. With Enviance, generate audit checklists and easily track every audit, incident, inspection, and all tasks associated with follow-up, through to resolution.

Performance improvement. Enviance provides the analytical power to examine root causes of recurring incidents and patterns within your data to improve your performance over time. You can generate key performance metrics for a broad range of events, including current status, percent of corrective actions complete, percent past due, and percent of timely completions.

"The Enviance System is the only system we found that had the flexibility to do whatever we needed. With other software packages, we would have needed to change our processes or customize the software - neither of which was a good option for us. With Enviance, we just set it up the way we needed and it worked right away across all 21 of our facilities."
